

SAPHIR

Saphir is a relatively new variety that was introduced to the market in 2002. It was developed by the Hop Research Center in Hüll, with the aim of creating a substitute for Hallertau Mittelfrüh that has the noble characteristics of Hallertau Mittelfrüh but is more resistant to disease.

TYPE OF HOPS

Aromatic

FORM

Pellets

ORIGIN

Germany

ACIDS

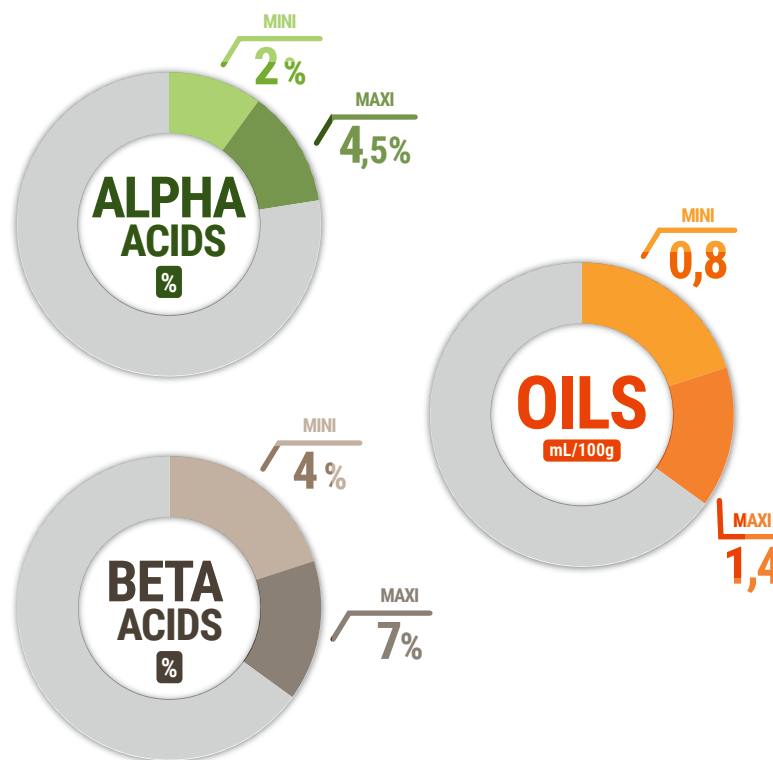

Alpha: 2 - 4.5%
Beta: 4 - 7%
Cohumulone: 12 - 17%

CUMULATIVE OILS

0.8 - 1.4ml/100g

POSSIBLE SUBSTITUTES

Mittelfrüh, Tradition

USE

Pale Ale, Lager, Pilsner, Wheat

CHARACTERISTICS

Mandarin, Light lemon, White flower, Herb

WWW.HOPSTORE.FR